WHERE?

Every organization develops from a seed, a common concern, a critical issue, a central purpose. It is flight-aid's desire to bring back a spark of optimism to the many millions in Africa, who have lost their hopes -

Isn't it better to light a candle, than to bear the dark?

WHAT IS FLIGHT-AID?

ABOUT FLIGHT-AID

flight-aid humanitarian air relief service was founded in September 2003 by the organization's president Tom Ober. Born in Zimbabwe he is profoundly dedicated to the welfare of the people of Africa.

The idea behind flight-aid as a non-profit, non-governmental organization (NGO) is to supply existing charitable and medical relief programmes in Africa with reliable air transportation at no cost, where it is vital to the accomplishment of humanitarian endeavours.

In co-ordinated effort with other humanitarian and medical organizations flight-aid's aircraft are used whenever rapid and safe transportation is needed in order to make health care accessible, save lives, or otherwise serve the African public in a humanitarian context.

flight-aid's philosophy is based on co-operation with other humanitarian organizations not on competition! The hopelessness that so many people are confronted with does not allow us to do so. Instead it makes us realize that there is a need to share resources and co-ordinate efforts to make a difference.

WHY?

VISION

The flight-aid vision is to provide airborne humanitarian and medical aid to improve the quality of life for the people of Africa.

MISSION

In co-operation with other recognized international relief agencies and in support of national health systems, flight-aid's mission is to save lives, improve living conditions and restore hope to the disadvantaged by means of efficient aerial transportation.

flight-aid's objective is to offer assistance to disadvantaged people, to populations in distress as well as to victims of natural and man-made disasters and victims of armed conflict, through the utilization of aviation. Its mandate is to aid people without discrimination and regardless of race, religion, creed or political affiliation.

As an independent organization flight-aid observes neutrality and nonpartisanship. On behalf of universal human ethics and in the name of every person who claims the right to receive humanitarian assistance when in distress, flight-aid demands full and unrestricted freedom in exercising its functions.
